

EN ROUTE April 4th 1914

John Forward J<sup>r</sup> Esq<sup>r</sup>.
Union Title & Trust Co.
San Diego. Cal

My dear Mr Forward

In my letter to you of yesterday - written directly on the typewriter from hasty dictation - I made a misstatement which I wish to correct.

The figure that terminates the first paragraph on the second page includes my assumed commission of - approximately -

- inately $1000<sup>00</sup> which, of course, it should not.

Will you be good enough therefore to cross out the $25000<sup>00</sup> & put, in its place, $18000<sup>00</sup>

Regretting the error, which arose from the fact that I was dictating hastily before leaving for my train - and the necessity of imposing upon you of the task of puzzling out my own hand-writing - always illegible enough but doubly so on a moving train. I remain.

Very faithfully yours.

Burton Dooder

(2 West 41st St. New York, U.S.)