CAR WILL SPREAD WORD THAT ROAD

Expostiion and Auto Club Join in Plan to Bear Information to Motorists.

Leaving San Diego this morning, an official "scout" car representing the Panama-California International 1916 Exposition and the Automobile 1916 Expósition and the Automobile Club of Southern California will tour north to Los Angeles over the coast road to carry information that the coast road will be open and in good condition for motorists this week. It is said that the automobile club's fouring bureau in Los Angeles is receiving an average of 100 calls a day for data on the condition of routes to the Exposition.

Bulletins of the results of the coast route investigation will be flashed to automobile club offices in Santa Barbara. Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Ann and Bakersfield as soon as the car reaches the Los Angeles headquarters at noon today, and the news will see given the widest possible circulation.

For the benefit of local motorists the club 'yesterday' announced that general reports show that the road is good at this time, as bridge work has been rushed during the last few days. The official car will carry banners indicating that the party 'represents the Exposition as well as the Automobile Club of Southern California, and the club will co-operate with the Exposition in disseminating the information gained. Club of Southern California will tou

Motion Picture Players De-Miss San Diego Asks lighted With Exposition And Inland Trip South

Clad in khaki, armod with a pistol and two cameras. Hazel Kling and Katherine Scola, two Los Angeles motion picture girls, arrived at the Exposition yesterday after a four days like from the Angel City.

"Just a little vacation jaunt," said Miss. Kling, yesterday, before starting back by the Coast route. "We just finished some work on the Fall of Babylon at the Griffith studio and wanted to see the Exposition, and at the same time have an outing. We got permission from the chief of police in Los Angeles and Riverside to carry a gun as protection, and we have had a regular time. Some nights when we couldn't reach a town we slept in barns and other times a straw stack was good enough. We met quite a few hoboes and tramps, but had no trouble with anyone. We paid for our meals at the farm houses and made the entire distance along the inland route."

After viewing the Exposition and expressing regrets that they could not remain for Dedication Day, the two young women started on their return journey, yesterday, going by the coast route. The young women insist that Los Angeles will send many thousands for Saturday's big program.

Two Film Girls and Cat Mascot May Cross U.S. On Trip to Boost Fair

oung Women Plan to Take Pictures of the Exposition Date for Dedicating Structure For Exhibition on Journey.

Two "reel" California girls want to make an automobile trip across the country with their mascot, Fluffy, a white cat, in an endeavor to gain publicity for the Fair.

The young women are Miss Cora. A Beardsley and Miss Ethelyndal McMullin. They motored to San Diego from San Francisco with Fluffy their only escort. One of the girls is a motion

One of the girls is a motion pleture camera operator and the other is a director. They want to take motion pletures of San Diego's Exposition and show them on their way to New York. They held a conference with Secretary H. J. Penfold yesterday, although no decision was reached.

They propose backing their automobile in the Pacific ocean and running across the country until the front wheels touch the Atlantic. They say Fluffy is ample protection. They also propose to give lectures in every city along the way on the beauties of San Diego and the Fair.

Miss Spokane to Come For Opening of Fair

Felicitations Exchanged Between Favorites of Northern and Southern Cities.

Miss San Diego yesterday received a telegram of congratula-tion on her election from Miss Spokane of Washington state. Miss Spokane is Miss Margaret Motie, and Miss San Diego is Miss Marion Vogdes of Lemon Grove.

The telegram read:
Congratulations upon your selection, Miss San Diego, I extend a hearty invitation to attend our celebration of the P. C. A. M. A. to be held in Spokane mext June.

Miss San Diego passed a good part of yesterday afternoon wondering what P. C. A. M. A. means. She tried every word she could think of which started with the letters mentioned, but could not make them come out right.

Finally, she gave it up and sent this telegram in return. Thanks. Won't you come to the dedication of the Panama-California International Exposition, Saturday? I would be pleased to have you as my guest.

Former is Postponed.

The opening of the Panama-California International Exposition next Saturday is courteously given the right of way by the city of Needles, which had planned a celebration to mark the opening of the Topock bridge on that date, but when it became known that the two ovents conflicted, the Needles events conflicted, the Needles committee promptly postponed the formal bridge opening until March 25. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Southern California Auto Club joined in the request for a change of date at Needles, and the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce loyally acquiesced in the change in arrangements.

ARCTIC DASH PLANNED BY CAPTAIN SWENSON BY CAPIAIN SWENSUN NEW YORK, March 12.—Capt. Olaf Swenson, who in the fall of 1914 rescued the Karluk's survivors after a battle against high seas and Arctic ice floes, will sail from Seattle this week for another dash into the frozen North, it was announced here tonight. Instead of the power schooner King and Wings, in which he battered his way to Wrangel island, where the twelve survivors of the Stefansson flagship were marconed, Captain Swenson will go to the Arctic on the thirty-four-ton bark Belvidere. If the plans carry, it was said, the Belvidere will meet the Stefansson Canadian Arctic expedition at Point Barrow Ir-August. There will be aboate the hark forty sallors, including a number of South Sea Islanders. The captain will make its first stop at Petropav-lovsk, proceeding thence to the east cape of Siberia. One of its chief objects is to hunt the bowhead whale. The Natural Shortening

A score of detectives will be placed on the Exposition payroll Dedication Day. Their principal duty will be to prevent scalping of Dedication Day souvenir badges.

Five thousand of these souvenirs were received yesterday by Director of Concessions B. W. Lee, and will be placed on sale today. The price will be fifty cents and they will be mood for namission Saturday as often as the wearer desires. To prevent re-sale of these badges by persons leaving the grounds during the day, special guards will be taken outside the grounds and the public is warned to buy badges of no one after Friday night, except uniformed attendants at Exposition gates. Almost ten' thousand of these badges have been sold at Los Angeles, and not until today could a sufficient number be obtained for sale in San Diego. Season tickets and other form of admission are good Saturday, as well as any other day, and the badges have been obtained with the idea, of giving a souvenir along with the privilege-of entering the grounds as many times as the holder desires.

These badges may be obtained from O. L. Jeancon, at 241 Broadway, who has charge of their sale. Band concert by Tommasino's Royal Italian band, Tuesday after-noon, March 14, 1:15 o'clock, Plaza de Panama; March, Myrella (Bernisux), Overture, La Muta di Portici (Au-

New Schedule, $5.35 Per Day, Highest Ever paid in BRAZIL'S EXHIBIT AT FAIR TO BE ENLARGED

Dr. Dugenio Dahne, in charge of the Brazilian exhibit at the Exposition, will leave for New York on his way to Brazil Saturday. While in Brazil he will collect additional material for the exhibit besides a quantity of coffee from Sao Paulo, which has been donated by the Brazilian government for consumption at the Exposition.

The recent slides in the canal held up a portion of the exhibit and Dr. Dahne will attend to having this shipped to San Diego via New Orleans, as soon as possible.

WILL DEDICATE PAINTINGS TODAY

To Be Thrown Open to Exposition Visitors.

The dedication of the San Diego artists' collection of paintings will take place this afternoon in the women's board headquarters of the women's board headquarters of the Exposition. There will be a reception the entire afternoon and a musical program from 3 to 5 o'clock. The musical program will consist of vocal numbers by La Rue Hewes, tenor of the First Church of Christ, Scientist; Miss Norma Owen and Miss Grace Cox. Mr. Hewes will sing a composition by local musicians. The music is by Mrs. Constance Mills Hereshoft and the words by Mrs. Frieda Foote. Miss Grace Cox will sing a recent song of John Vance Cheney.

With the collection of paintings, which will be exhibited for the first time tomorrow, it is planned to form a larger collection to be made up of the works of California artists exclusively. If successful in their efforts to bring the best California paintings into a California artists' collection, the local art colony intends to hang the collection in the Fine Arts gallery of the Exposition after the Dutch paintings leave.

Well-Trained Elephants in 4-Ring Show; Acting Lions Please Spectators.

Al G. Barnes' 4-ring wild animal circus tents were filled to capacity yesterday afternoon and hast night. The afternoon performance attracted hundreds and long before the performers were ready, every seat in the big tent were taken and many pecple were turned away. Although few in number the elephants were perhaps the best trained that have over appeared in San Diego.

A group of nine lions, the last act on the program, appeared to be the feature of the circus and received more applause than any of the other 32 attractions. The trainer brought the spectators to their feet other 32 attractions. The trainer brought the spectators to their feet when he placed his head in the jaws of a huge "king of the jungle." Unlike most circuses, almost half of Barnes' performers and employes are women. They enter the cages of the wild beasts, sell tickets and perform on horses.

Two more performances will be given toky, at the grounds. Twenty-third street and Logan avenue.
